Petersburg Cannery Paying Union Prices

Telegrams from Carl McCullough, of Petersburg, yesterday substantiated the rumor that the Pacific Coast and Norway Packing Company were paying union prices for salmon. The communication is to the effect that Keldal, manager of the company has signed an agreement to pay the prices set by the association and that business is again humming in the City by the Narrows.

Kermath Makes

Quick Trip

With the speedy little flat bottom and Kermath motor combination, the running time between Wrangell and Point Ward cannery was cut to two hours. Fred Lewis covering the thirty-six miles in that time last Friday.

Petition Council For City Official

Square Deal movement for a remedy for prevalent public pests

A petition, originating in the Square Deal Club, asking the Common Council to provide a city police officer has gone the rounds receiving the signatures of citizens who have the welfare of the town in mind.

While the necessity for such a move is very much regretted, the success of the circulators of the petition in getting signers is proof that the nuisance has kept pace with the growth in population.

The following is a copy of the petition:

We, the undersigned citizens of the Town of Wrangell, petition the Common Council of the Town of Wrangell that a permanent City Marshal be appointed and that proper ordinances be drawn up and put into effect in order that certain undesirable features of our town life be eliminated.

We allege that drunkenness on the streets is becoming too prevalent; that profane and indecent language is being used in the presence of ladies and children; that petty larceny is of daily occurrence especially along the waterfront; that children are allowed uncontrolled on the streets at late hours of the night and that other symptoms of lax government are developing.

We wish to call the attention of the Council to the fact that Deputy Marshal Schnabel is prevented by his instructions from acting in purely municipal matters and that therefore there is at present no persons empowered to control these existing nuisances.

We appeal to our Common Council on behalf of the women and children of the town for the adequate protection of our property and for orderly and decent good government.

Respectfully submitted,

About 150 citizens have signed the document and the circulators are confident of securing at least fifty more.

Successful Celebration

Weather dispenser amiable, good programs on land and water.

The usual bugle call on the morning of the 4th this year was the starting signal for a celebration many features of which were to Wrangell quite unusual. The patriotic program at the hall with the oration and special music, was appreciated by all who attended. The athletic sports contributed to the amusement throughout the day with trialshot skill and comic contests mixed in for variety.

The contests which brought out the greatest audience and the most spare cash were the tie race between the Halexon and Burnette, the four speed boats. At the first turn in the course the Halexon damaged her steering gear and though slower on the corners forged ahead on the straight away and won handily from the Burnette inlet boat.

While the Kermath had the goat of the field as regards first place among the speed boats, the race was exceptionally interesting on account of the closeness of the first test for second place, the King Streak finishing only a few feet in advance of the Red.

The 4 1-2 h. p. Squedunk captured first prize in the 10 and under class and the Black Fox won easily in the 10 to 21 race. Fred Johnston found the money easily with no contenders for honors in the decorative line entered in the parade for decorated boats.

With the exception of a few burned optics and strained muscles no accidents marred the day of sport which is conceded to have been the best ever and in keeping with the progress of Wrangell in other lines in the past year.

Spokane Tomorrow

The Alaska Cruise Steamer, Spokane, Capt. in George Zehn in command will be in Wrangell Friday on the homeward leg of the second cruise of the season with 150 tourists from all parts of the United States. With continuous good weather since sailing from Seattle on July 2d the present trip of the Spokane will probably be the most enjoyable of the season.

The Main Question.

"Young Wife—Do you think it justifiable for a wife to take money from her husband's pockets? Older Wife—It isn't a case of justification at all. It is a question of finding any to take."—Baltimore American.

An Eye to Business.

"This is a most delightful place," said a tourist to an innkeeper in a small town in the north of France, "but it is certainly a strange idea to pave the roads with such terribly sharp points." "Ah, yes," replied the landlord. "But what can you expect, monsieur? The mayor is a shoe-maker!"

Appearances.

There are no greater wretches in the world than many of those whom people take to be happy.—Seneca.

Criticism.

"Did you enjoy Miss Doodleson's singing last evening?" "Well, in a way, I did. But it seemed to me that she lacked a sense of proportion." "Yes, I noticed that too. A person as stout as she is ought to wear her stripes running up and down instead of the other way."—Chicago Record-Herald.

He Wouldn't Advertise.

There was a man who hustled not—To luck he trusted; He would not advertise a dot—And so he rusted, And likewise busted. —Baltimore Evening Sun.

How He Learns.

Many a dunce does not discover how stupid he really is until he reads it in the newspaper.—Life.

How to Treat Them.

"Give a man a banquet and a woman a new gown and each is happy," remarked Mr. Bromide. "Treat 'em like a Christmas goose, you mean," corrected his friend. "Like a Christmas goose? I don't get you." "Why, stuff 'em and dress 'em."—Boston Journal.

Advancement.

Jingles—I knew that fellow Storms, the comedian, would come to the front. Weller—And he has, has he? "Why, certainly! You remember he used to play the part of the hind legs of the elephant in the pantomime?" "Yes." "Well, now he's playing the part of the front legs."—London Tri-Bits.

Not Lucky.

Jones—What a lucky fellow you are, Brown! You always seem to catch your train with such ease. You never rush up at the last moment, like most of us. Brown—You make a mistake, my dear fellow. My misfortune is really worse. I never catch my proper train. You always see me waiting patiently for the next.—Pearson's Weekly.

Distance.

"The railroad business is pretty complicated." "Yes," replied the traveling man. "I don't suppose I ever will be able to understand why two towns that look so close together on a railway map get so far apart when they come to measure up the distance with a mileage book."—Washington Star.

Reluctant to Give Up.

"Lend me $10, old man. I'm a little short." "That won't help you any. You'll be just as short after getting the money." "Nonsense, old chap! How do you make that out?" "Why, after giving you the $10 I don't expect to see you any longer."—Exchange.

Probably It Would.

In a Sunday school the class was under a question on the sacrament. The sacrament of matrimony was taken up, and a seven-year-old scatted her teacher when replying to a question as to the necessity for this sacrament by answering: "No. Matrimony is not necessary to salvation, but should a favorable opportunity afford it would be sinful to neglect it."

Wanted—A Carnivorous Ant Eater. Just before visiting the circus Saturday had a passage at arms with his aunt, who assisted in dressing him. At the moment he was greatly interested in a foreign animal of long, thin body. "What animal is that?" he inquired at length. "That is called an ant eater," his mother replied. "Aunt, can't we bring Aunt Sally here some time?" he asked earnestly.—Lippincott's.

Conspirators.

It will surprise many to know that Washington Irving was a confessed orchard thief. Once, while picking up an apple in his own orchard, he was accosted by an uncle of the neighborhood, who, not recognizing him as the proprietor, offered to show him a tree where he could get some better apples than those. "But," said the boy, "we must not let the old man see us." "I went with him," said Irving, "and we stole about a dozen or two of my own apples and then went shares."

ENCOURAGEMENT.

Give the young and struggling a word of encouragement when you can. Utter the kind word when you see that it is deserved. The thought that "no one cares" and "no one knows" blights many a bud of promise and often breeds discouragement.

ROBERT W. JENNINGS.

OF JUNEAU

Nominated by the Democrats as Candidate for Delegate From Alaska

REPUBLICANS—SOCIALISTS

"I would say to my Republican friends: Let us not quarrel about National politics; let us talk about Alaska. It cannot be denied that Alaska has been hard hit by the leaders of your party; they have bottled up your coal; they have put nearly all land in Southeastern Alaska in a Forest Reserve; they have pondered to the special interests; they have overrun the land with special agents; they have denied us a local Legislature. Alaska has not thriven as it should have done. The two factions of your party have devoted more time to their own quarrels than they have to the welfare of Alaska. We have had too much of the Wickersham Shackelford feud. Senator Knute Nelson says that Wickersham is the worst man that Alaska could send to Congress. Because he quarrels with everybody and opposes everything which he himself does not originate. Gifford Pinchot says just the opposite. I am not going to say which is right, but my friend, don't you think you ought to have a change? As an Alaskan, not as a Democrat, not as a Republican, not as an Office Holder, not as an Office Seeker, but as an Alaskan sincerely interested in Alaska receiving all the consideration to which she is entitled; is it not time to put a stop to the Wickersham-Shackelford feud? Is it not time to say to these gladiators, 'A plague of both your houses; we will try somebody else?'"

And rather will I say to my Socialist friends (and some of the warmest friends I have are Socialists) let us not talk of world-wide matters. It is Alaska that interests us now. You live in Alaska. You are interested in her welfare. Alaska is cold and hungry; she needs things; she needs them now, not twenty years from now. If a Socialist should be elected from Alaska now, could he put your theories into force? No. But, you say, 'it will help the cause.' Let that be granted; for the sake of argument, what are you going to do, what is Alaska going to do while the cause is being helped? STOP—LOOK—LISTEN, would you rather get something within your reach than reach for something you cannot get?—(Speech of R. W. Jennings at Valdez, April 1912.)

An Empty Title.
 Little Willie—I say, pa, what is an empty title? Pa—An empty title, my son, is your mother's way of referring to me as the head of the house when there are visitors present.—Glasgow Times.

Perfectly Natural.
 Old Gentleman—How old are you, my dear? Little Girl—I was eight years old yesterday. Old Gentleman—In deed? You don't look to be that old.
 Little Girl—Ah, how you naughty men

 in producing

FISHER'S BLEND FLOUR

Naturally, it costs more to turn out this new, high-grade blend than it does to make simpler and less carefully handled flours. Hence its price per sack is slightly higher. However, as it is not short but loaves of bread that we eat, and as Fisher's Blend makes more loaves, in proportion to its cost, than does any other flour, millers and others using it have the satisfaction of knowing that they are really getting more and better values for their money. Fisher's Blend costs more as flour, but it gives more, both in quality and quantity of loaves, and is therefore actually more economical to buy and use than are the cheaper brands.
